Dear Sir,

Kone Lifts Ltd ADX Landing Door Locks

We have been asked to circulate to all members the enclosed Safety Note which we hope is sufficiently self-explanatory.

It is a matter for members individually to decide on whether they wish to disclose identification of the site.

Please be guided accordingly.

Yours faithfully,

D M Fazakerley

DEPT. TECH.SUPP	DATE 16.2.94	COMPILED BY A J Shiner	CHECKED 	APPROVED 	ISSUE A

1. Introduction

1.1 It has been found under conditions of extreme dampness that the locking beak assembly may corrode causing the beak to stick. This possibility applies to beaks manufactured with unplated pivots up to production beginning week 1193. Subsequent to that date, the pivots are zinc plated.

1.2 A list of the lift numbers with the potential problem is attached.

2.0 Inspection and Corrective Actions.

2.1 Condition of beaks to be inspected to ensure free dropping under gravity at every planned maintenance of the landing doors.

2.2. Any beak which will not drop under gravity must be replaced. The cause of damage must be identified.

2.3 Locking beak assemblies which are damaged due to corrosion of the the beak shaft will be replaced free of charge from Central Stores, Hounslow upon identification of the site, the Kone Lift Number and return of faulty beak assemblies.

2.4 Failure to return the faulty material or identify the site will result in the normal spares change for the component being invoiced to the receiver of the goods.

3.0 Replacement Parts.

3.1 Beak assemblies are left and right handed, parts identification are shown on the attached extracts from the spares manual AR 3.14.11 pages 6 and 7.
